FROM THE PRESIDENT’S DESK – BY LARRY PRILL, PRESIDENT AGO

Wow, that Nicklaus course at Reunion provided too much of a challenge for me. The lowest gross score was in the low 80’s, which tells you a lot about the course. Thought it played up to its 140 slope, it was still a lot of fun and if you broke 90 you need to feel pretty good about your game.

We had several ties in scores that we had to settle by comparing scorecards. As an example we had three players who all shot 82. Al Chandler prevailed to win the lowest gross score, with Andrew Munn who also had a fine 82 less his 19 handicap, ended up to be our low net winner. Larry Bretz was the third player with an 82 but it wasn’t in the cards. Larry told me he has never won a low gross, which is surprising since he’s a 9 handicap and he’s been an AGO member for over 20 years. Our A flight winner was Carl Russel with a net 70, B flight top honors goes to Jim Bishop (who must be practicing with all his free time) with a net 69, C flight winner is Reggie Martin with a net 63 (tied with Andrew) and Jim Frasier was tops in the D flight with a net 69. Closest to the pin honors goes to Brent Anderson (obviously his highlight of the day), Al Chandler, Jim Bishop and Andrew Munn. Congratulations to you all. As usual I’m not in the money and am envious of all you winners. Remember Reunion is extending a $40 rate to all Ago members until the end of August. Contact Austin hood @ 407.662.1131. Also thanks to John Atkinson who does the scoring. He had to do a lot of extra work to determine all these final scores.

Be sure to check the mailing label on the front of your newsletter. It will tell you if you still owe your dues for the 2010 – 2011 season. If we don’t receive by next tournament you’ll be taken off the mailing list, so if you have any intentions of playing this next season please send it in. Any questions contact John Ingram at john\_r\_ingram@hotmail.com

I want to let you all know you can contact the board through our email addresses or by calling the AGO Hotline (we’d prefer email). When in doubt do both. If you want to play or you don’t see your name posted on our website, and for some reason you can’t call or email, then just show up to a tournament. We’ll find a spot for you but you should try to contact someone on the board first. If it’s the morning of the event then call the course. All board members email address’s are on our website www.agogolf.net

As always, I’m looking for courses to play in the upcoming months. I’m not booking ahead too far in the future due to the poor shape of many of the courses. If you play at a course that you’d like to see on our schedule, then send me a contact name and email address. But remember if you talk to a course be sure they know we only play on Sunday mornings. Many courses won’t even consider booking any event because we play at a prime time that course don’t want to discount or get members upset.

Next month were playing at The Grand Cypress (the original course) so let us know ASAP if you’ll be playing. The courses put a lot of pressure on us to let them know how many players we’ll have so they know how many holes will be available. Thanks again for your support and lets see a lot more red numbers in August.

12-2/1 Identifying Ball by Brand, Model and Number Only

Q:
In the area in which his ball presumably came to rest, a player finds a ball of the same brand, model and identification number as the ball he is playing. The player assumes it is his ball, even though it does not carry an identification mark as suggested in Rule 12-2, and plays it. Should the player be considered to have played a wrong ball?

A:
No, unless (1) there is clear evidence that, because of the ball’s condition, it is not the player’s ball or (2) subsequently it is established that another ball of the same brand, model and identification number was lying in the area at the time the player played and either ball, from a condition standpoint, could be the player’s ball.

The Origins of Golf

The Early Romans played a game very similar like golf by hitting a feather-stuffed ball with club-shaped tree branches. Pictures in books also show the Dutch playing a similar type of game on their frozen canals during the 1500's. Cross-country versions of the game were also popular in France and Belgium.

It is interesting to note that even though Scotland is the father and mother of the game of golf, it was also banned there for a time. This ban was in place during the middle part of the fifteenth Century when Scotland was preparing to defend itself against an English invasion. History tells us that many people in Scotland became so obsessed with golf that they neglected the military training that would be required if the English were to be driven back so the Scottish Parliament of James II quite literally banned the game. Although the ban was reintroduced in 1470 and 1491 its popularity continued to grow. The Scots simply ignored the ban

Scotland is the home of the world's oldest golf course, St. Andrews, which was used as early as the sixteenth century.

The Royal and Ancient Golf Club at St. Andrews, the birth place of golf, was founded in 1754.

Golf became firmly established in Great Britain by the 17th century when James VI of Scotland, later James I of England, started to play the game

During the 1800s the gutta-percha ball, or "guttie," replaced the feather-filled ball that had been used for hundreds of years.

In 1860 the 1st British Open was played at Prestwick, Scotland. The competition was opened to both professionals and amateurs the next year.

St. Andrews, one of the oldest golf clubs in the USA, was established as a 3-hole layout in 1888 at Yonkers, N.Y. Its founders were known as the "Apple Tree Gang" because of the many apple trees on their course, which was extended to 6 holes on a cow pasture.

Golf Injury

A couple of women were playing golf on a Sunday morning. The first of the twosome teed off and watched in horror as her ball headed directly toward a foursome of men playing the next hole. Indeed, the ball hit one of the men, and he immediately clasped his hands together at his crotch, fell to the ground and proceeded to roll around in evident agony. The woman rushed down to the man and immediately began to apologize. She explained that she was a physical therapist: "Please allow me to help. I'm a physical therapist and I know I could relieve your pain if you'd allow me!", she told him earnestly. "Ummph, ooh, nnooo, I'll be alright...I'll be fine in a few minutes", he replied breathlessly as he remained in the fetal position still clasping his hands together at his crotch. But she persisted, and finally allowed her to help him. She gently took his hands away and laid them to the side, she loosened his pants, and she put her hands inside. She began to massage him. She then asked him: "How does that feel?" To which he replied: "It feels great, but my thumb still hurts like hell."
